

Free Digital Access to Newspapers Available to MSU Students via MSU Libraries

Did You Know:

All MSU students are able to access publications such as The Wall Street Journal, The Washington Post, The New York Times and more, through MSU's Library for free. There are two databases that post the newspapers daily: Factiva and U.S. Newsstream through Proquest. You can also view the historical issues in a few different archives: <https://libguides.lib.msu.edu/findingnewspapers>
